What do you see? It makes all the difference.

Take for example obstacles blocking your way to achieving God's promises for your life. It seems fair to call these obstacles 'enemy' because they are blocking progress.

Do you tend to focus on the strength of those things blocking your path or do you look for the weakness? If you look for the weakness, you will find your way around the problem and overcome. Take for example a large tree that has fallen across the road. There is no way to get around it. It is too big, too powerful. But look closer, when the tree fell, it cracked in several places. Hook a chain around branches close to those weak areas, attach to your car, and you will be able to pull the tree out of your way, piece by piece.

Now lets look at a less concrete example. Sickness and disease. You have been diagnosed with an incurable disease. It is fair to say that this disease is your enemy because it is blocking your path to achieving a long and healthy life with plenty of time and strength to fulfill your God given purpose. Yes, an incurable disease can seem to big and powerful when you only 'see' its strength, but search for the weakness. Perhaps you discover that your heart is bitter and weak because of some past offense... which causes much stress and weakness in your body. When you focus on 'seeing' the weakness, you can do something about it. Forgive the person who caused the offense and as your soul prospers so will your physical body.

When Mose's scouts went out to access the promised land, they only saw the strength of their enemies and were too fearful to stay on the path to achieve God's best for them. As a result they wandered in the wilderness for 40 years and never saw the promised future God had planned for them. But when Joshua's scouts went out to access the promised land, they only saw the weakness of their enemies and were empowered to stay on the path and take hold of the promises God had in store for them. And they did. (Numbers 13:25-33, Joshua 2:22-24)

What do you focus on, your enemy's strength or your enemy's weakness? If you choose to focus on your enemy's weakness, you will have what it takes to achieve your God given purpose and grab hold of the promises God has for you!

Chicktime Northwest Arkansas is a group of kind hearted volunteers who aspire to enrich the lives of domestic violence victims. Our goal is to build and nurture lasting relationships to encourage self esteem, independence and healing in preparation for the next steps of their personal journey. We dedicate our time and knowledge to give back to our community and create an atmosphere of positive attitude and happiness.

We design monthly events that are catered to the expertise of the monthly volunteer leader. Not only is this a great opportunity to give back but it is also an opportune time to build remarkable relationships. If you are interested in helping us serve the community and transform the lives of women in NWA please contact us at chicktimenwa@gmail.com.

To simply join our chapter and begin receiving invitations to upcoming volunteer events, click the subscribe button below and select AR-NWA from the drop down menu. We will be in touch soon and look forward to sharing time with you.

Sincerely,

Christina Cole
